

M34 Weave a Heart Sunday 7th July 14h00 – 15h00

Danél-Marie Muller

Duration of the class: One Hour

Skills level: All Skills levels

Whether you are 7 or 70, Danél-Marie Muller will be able to teach you the finer nuances of quilting. Incorporating her background in IT, art and music, she brings fresh ideas to the table, teaching the use of simple tools to create extraordinary results. Danél-Marie started quilting in 2006 and the 2007 SAQG Alberton Quilt Festival convinced her that she had found her art medium in textiles! Her quilts have been exhibited at the Pretoria Art Museum, Centurion Art Gallery, Tinan Skukan Art Gallery and Pink House, and have travelled with the SAQG Travelling Exhibition and IQCSA. Danél-Marie is a SAQG-accredited teacher, with teaching experience at the SAQG National Festival, other retreats and guild classes.

Detailed Course Description:

Making bias binding seems a lot more complicated than it is. This hour-long workshop can help quilters learn a useful skill. The cutting of bias strips and using the bias tool will be demonstrated. The bias strips will be used to weave vertical and horizontal strips to create a heart pattern. Students will be shown how to finish off the project with pre-cut binding.

Detailed contents of kit: An 8"x 8" pattern printed on paper with kit including pre-cut fabric and binding.

Cost of Kit: R40

Class Note Handouts:

8"x 8" pattern will be handed out.
